WASHINGTON, D.C.—Thousands of older people every year are finding pleasure as campers in the nation's network of public parks and campgrounds. The Golden Age Passport permits them free entry to all national parks if they are 62 or older. In addition, they receive a 50 per cent discount on all campsite and other "use" fees at all national parks, national forests, and Army Corps of Engineers camps. To obtain a Golden Age Passport, go in person to a National Park Service office, or to a national park that charges an entry fee, with proof of your age. For a copy of a brochure that describes the Golden Age Passport and lists national parks that charge entry fees in 1977, write to the National Park Service, Room 1013, 18th and C Streets, N.W., U.S. Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240.

Went to Island Park
Got load poles Had 46 poles 12 ft. long I went with Win to get poles, in payable traps Took our time and didn't hurry to fast Had a nice lunch out in the open. Didn't need a coat on.

Isolene

George & Margaret Butte came on the engine Drive Subscription!
Had a nice visit with them. Isolene
